ABSTRACT

The Advanced Placement Program of the College Entrance Examination Board provides a practical way for schools and colleges to create and use common definitions of college level courses, which, when completed in secondary school, prepare students for advanced study at college. The examinations are graded according to the following scale: 5 - extremely well qualified; 4 - well qualified; 3 - qualified; 2 - possibly qualified; 1 - no recommendation. This booklet offers a list of colleges with rough outlines of their advanced placement policies and the names of those officials to whom more detailed inquiries may be sent. The colleges and universities are arranged alphabetically according to their full names. At the end of the booklet there is a listing of the colleges according to their geographical locations. (KJ)

The Advanced Placement Program of the College Entrance Examination Board provides a practical way for schools and colleges to create and use common definitions of college-level courses which, when completed in secondary school, prepare students for advanced study at college. In each field committees of examiners—teachers from participating schools and colleges—write course descriptions and construct the three-hour qualifying examinations that are graded (again by school and college teachers) according to this scale: 5—extremely well qualified; 4—well qualified; 3—qualified; 2—possibly qualified; 1—no recommendation.

All the examinations require essays and the solution of problems. They also include objective questions to ensure reliability, breadth, and comparability with former years. A student's grade is a composite judgment based on the entire examination. The parts of each examination are weighted as the examiners require, so the final grade is not a simple average of the part scores, nor is it derived exclusively from the essays or problems. Colleges are sent students' essay booklets and supporting materials in July each year.

It is the sense of the Program that participating colleges will be willing to grant advanced placement or credit, or both, to candidates who receive grades of 3 or higher and will review the examinations of those students who receive grades of 2. But each college determines what action it will take on the grades it receives.

In October 1968 the College Board sent a questionnaire to all American colleges and universities, seeking information on their Advanced Placement policies for freshmen entering in the fall of 1969. This booklet contains the information received in response to the questionnaire. The colleges offer the rough outlines of their Advanced Placement policies and the names of those officials to whom more detailed inquiries may be sent. The colleges and universities are arranged alphabetically according to their full names. At the end of the booklet there is a listing of the colleges according to their geographical locations.

Introduction

The following considerations should be kept in mind by every reader.

(1) The Advanced Placement Examination grades listed here are those which the institutions normally accept as evidence of college-level work already done. Although many colleges grant these grades automatic recognition, others make occasional, or even frequent, exceptions.

(2) On the other hand, many colleges also honor grades other than those they have listed here, some occasionally and others frequently. But again no general assurance can be given on this point.

(3) It is for instance understandable that some colleges are reluctant to commit themselves at this time to honoring specific grades on the new examinations in Latin, mathematics, and physics. Yet the examining committees are convinced that these new instruments will prove even more useful—and hence acceptable—than did the former examinations in these fields.

(4) The listing of an x instead of a grade means only that the college declines to offer assurance of normal recognition of any examination grade in that subject. In some cases no such recognition is now offered; in others recognition is possible, but additional means are employed to determine it—generally local placement tests or interviews.

Therefore, while this booklet does afford students and authorities in their schools a general overview of the Advanced Placement Program at American colleges, individual students and their counselors will also wish to consult colleges' detailed catalog statements and the officials listed here.
